■ Political revolution

Eugène Delacroix, Liberty leads citizens across the barricades

“Man was born free, and everywhere he is in chains”

(Jean-Jacques Rousseau, Du contract social, 1762, bk. 1, ch. 1: « L’homme est né libre, et partout il es dans les fers »).

■ Technological revolution

(Joseph Wright, Experiment with the Air-pump, oil, 1768 , Tate Gallery, London)

“If we don’t find anything pleasant, at least we shall find something new” (Voltaire, Candide, 1759, ch. 17: « Si nous ne trouvons pas des choses agréables, nous trouverons du moins des choses nouvelles »).

The Age of Abundance

(Fra Andrea Pozzo, Europe, fresco, Sant' Ignazio di Loyola, Rome, early eighteenth century)

“Everything degenerates in the hands of man. He forces one soil to nourish the products of another, one tree to bear the fruit of another. He mixes and confuses the climates, the elements, the seasons. He mutilates his dog, his horse, his slave. He turns everything upside down: he disfigures everything; he loves deformity, monsters. He wants nothing as nature made it, not even man.” Rousseau, Émile ou de l'éducation, 1762, bk. 1)
